

RANDAL T. EVANS is an attorney in private practice, focusing on federal, state, and local taxation; tax-exempt organizations; federal Indian law and Indian tribal enterprises; and business law. Prior to establishing a solo law practice, Randy worked for more than ten years in large national and international law firms, including more than eight years in the Phoenix office of a nationally-recognized tax practice. He has more than 20 years of experience working with nonprofit organizations, and more than 15 years of experience helping nonprofits with tax and legal issues. As part of his exempt organizations practice, Randy advises and represents nonprofit clients on a wide range of corporate, tax, regulatory, and transactional matters. He is a member of the Federal Bar Association (Tax and Indian Law sections), State Bar of Arizona (Tax Law Executive Council, Business, Indian Law sections), State Bar of New Mexico (Tax and Indian Law sections) and the Navajo Nation Bar Association. He earned his B.A. degree, cum laude, from the University of Mexico and his J.D. degree, magna cum laude, from the State University of New York at Buffalo. Randy is married with three children and enjoys spending time with his family, reading, and the outdoors.
